ISHMAELITES

MORE than mere denial is required of public officials who are accused of affiliation with the Ku Klux Klan, declares the Sacramento Bee. The Bee calls upon nine officials, including the deputy state labor commissioner of California and the city prosecutor of Sacramento to render actual proof that their names are on the records of the Sacramento Klan kiegale without their knowledge and consent.

The Bee expresses the sentiment of every liberty-loving American citizen when it says:

The real nature of this organization is no longer a matter of debate. Its bigotry, its intolerance, its cowardly tactics, its brutalities, not alone toward men, but also toward women and children, have been stamped upon it until the brand is seen and known of all men.

It raises the hand of one man up against his neighbor, and sets sect against sect, race against race, friend against friend.

Like Cain, it must be driven out from the society of decent men and women, and public officials who associate themselves with it must expect to suffer the same fate.

LABOR'S FRIEND

WORKINGMEN and women have an opportunity in the coming primary election to pay a debt and refute the charge often made, and so often unfounded, that Labor's vote is unintelligent and more likely, under manipulation of the smooth politician, to vote adversely to its interests than for them.

It is undoubtedly true that many a working man does—just as many a business man does—delay making a decision on political issues until he finds a ballot in his hands, and votes haphazardly in consequence as do the rest of us. But given the opportunity to weigh a question, the average worker is likely to reach a conclusion more logical to his interests than is the political theorist who criticizes him.

But this is pure digression. We only want to call to Labor's attention, and many of Labor's members are probably better informed than we are, the record of Congressman N. J. Sinnott as a friend of Labor during the past nine years.

A compilation by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, for Congressman John Nolan of California, shows that of forty-eight measures affecting labor before congress since 1913, Sinnott voted favorably on forty-two; unfavorably on three, and did not vote on the remaining three.

With the detailed record of Sinnott's labor attitude, Gompers sent Congressman Nolan a letter, in which he said:

"Representative Sinnott has been very active in supporting measures advocated by Labor. Besides his favorable votes, he has aided in many ways the success of our cause before committees and on the floor of the House."

A plain man himself, Sinnott is a friend of all plain, straightforward, honest Americans. Their interests are in common.

The shirk and the radical will find no champion in Sinnott. He is a hard worker himself and has no use for non-producers. The ranting, never-sweat, whose aim is to destroy, has as much chance of influencing Sinnott as a Scotch highball has of quenching Bryan's thirst.

But the men and women who toll with their hands for the common good have but to look to their congressman's record to determine for themselves that they stand on a common plane with him; that in Sinnott they have for every worthy aim and aspiration a champion who will move as efficiently and readily in their interest as for any citizen or group of citizens in the land.

MIDLAND

On Friday evening a meeting will be held in the Midland school house to discuss the county unit plan. Fred Peterson, principal of the Merrill school, will be the main speaker. Everybody residing in the Midland school district should make every effort to be present as it is a very important that every citizen should understand the advantages of the county unit plan before the election. Miss Knapp, local teacher is making every effort to inform residents of the meeting. The pupils of the Midland school are planning on having a short program.

Klamath river is rising over the tule land at Midland. It is rising higher every day. The dyke is overflowing now and the water is so deep that it is almost impassable. The water, however, is not nearly so high as it was this time last year, for it was a large lake for several months. The Hooper children who live on Miller island will have to come to Midland school in a boat if it rises any higher.

Eugenio Andreatta from Weed arrived in Midland Friday. The Midland school was closed circus day as Miss Knapp chaperoned the pupils to the circus. Geo. Furber and Mathew De Fatti provided cars for their going and coming. They enjoyed the day very much.

Mr. Hammond of this place is seriously ill with pneumonia. He was taken to his brother's home for care. Mrs. Largent is seriously ill with pneumonia. A doctor from Klamath Falls was called Saturday night to attend her.

Ila Hooper of Miller island took in the circus Monday.

Mathew Del Fatti was a Klamath Falls visitor Saturday.

E. Robustelli was a Klamath Falls visitor Saturday.

Ed Bloomingcamp of Klamath Falls spent Monday on his ranch at Midland.

Emma Robustelli was a Midland school visitor Tuesday.

J. B. Burnett was a Klamath Falls visitor Tuesday.

Miss Ila Hooper was a Klamath Falls visitor Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jory were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Patton.

Mrs. Anderson of Klamath Falls spent several days in Midland looking after her property here.

Miss Ila Hooper spent Sunday at the Konig home of Miller Hill district.

Mr. and Mrs. Emilio Giacomelli, and daughter, Ida from Weed arrived here Friday. They intend to make their home at the section house while in Midland. They are friends of Dominico Ferraresi, section foreman of this place.

Little Edger and Clara Furber are ill with pneumonia. A doctor from Klamath Falls was called Tuesday night. They are better this afternoon. Geo. Furber was a Klamath Falls visitor Tuesday.

T. D. Young was a Klamath Falls visitor Tuesday.

DORRIS

DORRIS, Calif., May 6.—Charles Messick of the mercantile firm of C. Messick & Son, of Macdoel, spent yesterday afternoon in Dorris on business.

James Grayson, an officer of the Central Labor Council of Klamath Falls, was a Dorris visitor yesterday.

Mrs. Fred Joy has returned to Dorris after spending the winter in Oregon.

Opening of fishing season has taken many tired business men away from their routine duties to the green nooks and sequestered spots on Butte and other mountain creeks in the vicinity of Macdoel. Although not at its best, fishing is reported fairly good. Several local people have returned with good catches of trout during the past few days.

Jehu Hayworth shipped a carload of beef steers to the Klamath Packing company at Klamath Falls this week.

O. E. Snide, of Macdoel was in town yesterday on business.

Mrs. Field M. Rice, who resides in Macdoel, passed through Dorris one day this week by automobile en route home from a trip to Yreka.

Local members of the Timberworkers' union have announced a dance to be held in the Knights of Pythias hall here this evening.

Charles Rugh, a student at the University of California school of medicine, is expected to arrive in Dorris soon to spend the summer with Roy Tabor and family. Rugh has spent his vacation here for the past two years. During the summer he is actively associated with baseball and other sports.

JUGO-SLAV TAMBURICANS

Music lovers will enjoy a real musical treat in hearing the Jugo-Slav Tamburica orchestra, which is coming as the musical feature on the third day of Chautauqua, which opens here May 23.

Balkan melodies—a novelty in America form only a small part of the wonderful repertoire of the five young Jugo-Slavs comprising this orchestra. They first won recognition at the Paris Exposition, and since coming to America, these young Jugo-Slavs everywhere met with enthusiastic receptions, playing opera selections, American songs and popular and patriotic airs with skill.

These minstrels appear in the bright colorful costumes of their native land, and using the various sizes of Tamburica produce music of remarkable sweetness. The range of music is almost limitless, and the volume of tone produced by the five players is equal to that of an orchestra of eight or nine players using other string instruments.

The Tamburica has been the household instrument of their people for generations, and while similar to the mandolin, banjo and guitar, it possesses larger musical possibilities because of greater life and tone.

LAND HARD ON THE LUMPS

When you are doing your spading this spring, remember that every lump of earth you break up fine is adding fertility to the soil. Soil should be worked fine. Pulverizing the soil is almost equivalent to adding a supply of fertilizer.

The lumps lock up the plant food and the tiny roots will creep around in the finer softer soil and avoid the lumps, failing to penetrate them if they are too hard. The finer the soil, the more available is the plant food so that every additional bit of pulverizing given the soil makes it that much more fertile.

The plants must find their food in liquid form, the rains or artificial watering furnishing the solution to leach out the food elements. With the soil in fine tilt the moisture penetrates evenly. Hard lumps it will not penetrate except slowly.

Break up the lumps.

With the soil dug and broken finely to a foot depth, even a poor soil will show a surprising increase in growth over the same soil which has been coarsely dug and in which the lumps have not been well broken up.

With the soil well pulverized, the task of hoeing or working with a hand cultivator to keep down the weeds is much easier. Then when the dry weather comes it is easy to keep the surface stirred and establish a dust mulch which is the finest protection against dry weather, keeps the soil moist so the roots can work, and ameliorates the scorching rays of the midsummer sun which otherwise would bake and crack the soil.

Portland, too, is for Fithian

REPUBLICANS ALL OVER THE STATE ARE GETTING READY TO VOTE ON MAY 19 TO ELECT O. H. FITHIAN NATIONAL COMMITTEEMAN, INSTEAD OF RALPH E. WILLIAMS, WHO HAS HAD THE JOB TOO LONG

Portland Daily News Says:

"It is a refreshing and healthy sign when a busy and successful man takes off his coat and runs for an office that is salaryless and of dubious honor."

"Such a man is O. H. FITHIAN, wholesale shoe merchant, candidate for the office of Republican National Committeeman. He is opposing Ralph E. Williams, who has served since 1908. Originally Williams was a democrat.

"Fithian is the head of the Fithian-Barker Shoe Co., Portland. It is literally true this time that 'the office seeks the man.'"

Morning Oregonian Says:

"That FITHIAN has organized a strong campaign and is conducting a vigorous battle is evident to the public, and it has undoubtedly caused uneasiness in the Williams camp."

Portland Telegram Says:

"Fithian, although a lifelong worker in the Republican party, has never sought political office."

"Williams is a professional politician who, after serving 14 years as national committeeman, wants still another term."

"In the 1912 national convention Williams was antagonistic to Theodore Roosevelt, despite the fact that the Oregon delegation was pledged to the great American."

"Fithian promises to work in harmony with Oregon's delegation in congress."

"Williams has never worked in harmony with the delegation."
